

Club/Society Signatory Resignations

If a Club or Society signatory resigns, you must book an EGM (Extraordinary General Meeting) in order to hold an election and keep the group running.

Sometimes, signatories resign feeling under pressure from other signatories and so, by default, all three signatory positions are opened up for candidates at an EGM following a resignation. If instead all 3 signatories agree (including the resigning signatory), you can choose to elect only the one position being vacated. If you would like to only elect one signatory position at your EGM, please sign below to confirm.
